Profile

As a young professional I have a new, fresh view of doing business nowadays. Business as mission is a term that intrigues me. For me it is important to have a commercial view on things but helping others is just as important. By doing business in this way it is possible to make the world a little bit better. Helping others gives me energy and a drive to go on and do more. I am reliable, organized, helpful, go for my goals and keep the overview.
